SC extends Ayodhya mediation process till Aug. 15

New Delhi, May 10 (UNI)- A five-Judge Bench led by Chief Justice of India (CJI) Ranjan Gogoi this morning gave the Supreme Court-appointed Mediation Committee time till Aug. 15 to continue with its efforts to resolve the prolonged and strife-ridden Ayodhya title dispute.

"We do not want to short-circuit the mediation process. We will extend the time in order to enable the Committee to complete the task assigned to it," Chief Justice Gogoi addressed the parties present in the courtroom. The Committee filed an interim report dated May 7 with the Constitution Bench.

Sources said the Committee conveyed that "progress" was being made in the talks and the panel was meeting with the parties. The next meeting with the stakeholders is in June. Besides the Chief Justice, the other judges in the Constitution Bench are Justices S.A. Bobde, D.Y. Chandrachud, Ashok Bhushan and S. Abdul Nazeer.

The panel of mediators comprises former Apex Court Judge Justice F.M. Ibrahim Kalifulla, as Chairman, and spiritual leader Sri Ravi Shankar and senior advocate Sriram Panchu, a pioneer in alternative dispute resolution mechanisms in the country, as members.

Motherly Mothers

Public examinations conducted by all-India agencies such as CBSE and State Governments as well as UPSC seem to have become happy hunting grounds for the hitherto grossly under-rated fraternity of the female species, given the multi-column headlines on the front page of dailies of all hues and languages with the all-too-familiar expression "girls outshine the boys" not a day passing after the results are announced. Women have arrived on the scene in many spaces that have been the bastion of males since God-knows-how-long-back in the past centuries. Police force, defence sector, government offices and, lately banks, both public funded and privately managed, are currently witnessing conspicuous presence of women making the males look like a pathetic minority. All this makeover is mocking at the much-hyped attrition of the share of females in the country's total population.

In the backdrop of a) Girls outgunning boys in passing public examinations with distinction, b) Mothers being glorified as the child's first teacher and c) Grandmas seeking shelter in homes exclusively established for their care, the fraternity of grandpas seem to have got eclipsed in public domain. Fathers have tended to lose their time-honoured status as chief wage earners of their families.

Most, if not all, management gurus who teach the nuances of managing businesses in business schools and also have authored books on the subject are males. They are nowhere to be seen or heard talking about the tricky business of managing a family. Without meaning to ignore the male's part in oiling the family's financial wheel to run smoothly, the stellar role of the mother in sustaining the well-knit image of her family can never be over-exaggerated. The other power factor at the command of the mother, other than keeping the hearth blazing, namely her financial wizardry seems to remain unheralded, not to speak of being noticed to the extent that crosses the bar.

Mothers of families whose chief wage earners bring home pots of money and mothers of families with just-make-do incomes are different kettles of fish. The latter kind are not only the first teacher of the child but also don the role of motherly mother, the term with an ocean of meaning.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

The Big Boss and his Aide-in-Chief trying to figure out the effect that pre-monsoon predictions can have on the outcome of the ongoing elections.

Big Boss: Well, Aidebhai, how do you think we've done so far in these elections? Aide-in-Chief: Pretty well, Bossbhai. Now it's largely up to these weatherwalas, and what forecasts they make about the upcoming monsoon.

Big Boss: Monsoon? What has the monsoon got to do with these elections? Won't the polling be over before the monsoon gets here? Aide-in-Chief: It will. It's not the monsoon which bothers me, it's the forecasts of the monsoon. You see, the forecast of a timely, normal monsoon puts everyone in a good mood, which means they'll vote for the incumbents, which is us. But the forecast of a late, poor monsoon puts people in a bad mood and makes them vote against us.

Big Boss: So, what do the monsoon forecasts say? Aide-in-Chief: That's the hitch. Some weatherwalas are forecasting a good monsoon, and some a bad monsoon, or a nonsoon. It all depends on El Nino, which is Spanish for 'Little Boy'.

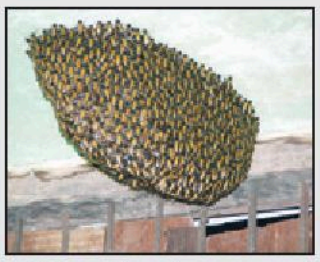
Honeybees use shimmering to repel invaders



Beijing: Giant honeybees of East Asia have the ability to build impressive open hives measuring a few meters across. The open hivess are always exposed makes them vulnerable to predators, particularly large wasps and hornets that love nothing more than invading hives and stealing grubs. But the bees use a secret weapon similar to 'Mexican Waves' that is as visually mesmerising as it is effective.

Called shimmering, the unique defensive strategy of giant honeybees involves large numbers of workers raising their rear-ends by ninety degrees and shaking them in unison, creating an effect similar to the well-known Mexican Waves seen at stadiums across the world. How hundreds of bees are capable of communicating and producing this highly coordinated response to threats remains unknown, but after 15 years of studying the behavior in the wild, scientists are now convinced that shimmering is a defense mechanism.

Artist uses her lips as canvas to create artworks

New York: Ryan Kelly is a talented makeup artist who paints tiny yet intricate portraits of celebrities and popular characters on her lips. Looking at the kind of detail Ryan Kelly is able to produce on such a tiny and unusual canvas, it's hard to believe that her lip art started out as a joke. Four years ago, Ryan and her husband were on the couch watching Katy Perry's Superbowl halftime show, when their attention was caught by one of her dancers, who later went viral as "Left Shark".

It was the makeup artist's husband who suggested that she paint a shark on her lips and the fins on her fingers so she could puppet her very own Left Shark performance. She did just that and posted a photo of her facial makeover on social media. The response was positive and inspired her to delve deeper into lip art.

'Medicines themselves are becoming food'

Regrets Wellness Expert Dr. B.R. Pai

Wellness Expert Dr. B.R. Pai delivering a talk on 'Pain Management Through Mudras' at the Institution of Engineers on JLB Road, here on Wednesday.

Mysuru, May 10 (MK&NNN)- The use of medicines has increased so much that they are being consumed like food these days, said Wellness Expert Dr. B.R. Pai. He was delivering a talk on 'Pain Management Through Mudras' organised at Institution of Engineers (IE) on JLB Road here on May 8 and said that the type and number of diseases are increasing year by year and man is becoming a victim of medicines.

Instead of eating nutritious food and doing regular exercises to keep one fit, people today are trying to find quick-fix solutions and thus resorting to taking pills to improve their health. Since man is always experiencing some pain or the other, such practises should be done away with and pain management should done through mudras, he opined.

Nonagenarian Mudra proponent Prof. D.S. Iyer said that since mudras can be practised anywhere one could see improvement in one's health. The pain that is experienced in different parts of the body can be cured without using any medicine through mudras. If one has to lead a healthy life, everyone without fail must do Jnana Mudra, Prithvi Mudra, Vayu Mudra, Apana Mudra and Prana Mudra for about five to ten minutes every day both in the morning and evening, he said.

IE Mysuru Chairman Dr. R. Suresh, Hon. Secretary D.K. Dinesh Kumar and others were present on the occasion.

Really...?

- Beavers can hold their breath for 45 minutes under water.

VOICE OF THE READER

Space blocking barricades

Sir,

The Traffic Police have erected barricades tied with rope parallelly on a small stretch of JLB Road in the vicinity of a shopping mall. These barricades are causing hindrance for the free flow of traffic on this stretch especially during holidays and weekends.

Probably these barricades are placed by the Traffic Police to curb parking of vehicles close to the shopping mall on JLB Road.

With the barricades placed like this, though parking has been curbed, the motorable width of the road has been reduced to about seventy five percent. This is causing immense hardship to the motorists on this busy stretch.

The Traffic Police should remove the barricades and place "No Parking" boards on the entire stretch and help the motorists to have a smooth drive.

MLA bats for celebration of Acharya Trio along with Shankara Jayanti

Mysuru, May 10 (RKB&DM)- MLA L. Nagendra has urged for the celebration of Acharya Trio-Shankaracharya, Ramanujacharya and Madhvacharya Jayantis along with Shankara Jayanti.

He was speaking at Shankaracharya, Ramanujacharya and Madhvacharya Jayanti celebration organised jointly by Ramanuja Sahasramanotsava Samithi and Mysuru City Brahmins Association at Venugopalaswamy temple on Thyagaraja Road here yesterday.

Pointing out that the Jayanti was a day to remember the contributions of Shanakaracharya, Ramanujacharya and Madhvacharya to the entire world, Nagendra said the principles of the Acharya-trio were very much relevant even today.

Suggesting the Government to celebrate Ramanujacharya and Madhvacharya Jayanti along with Shankara Jayanti, the MLA said that the joint celebration would largely help in propagating the values propagated by the Acharya-trio much better.

Mysuru District Co-operative Union President H.V. Rajeev said that peace is not a commodity that is available in shops, but can be earned by practising religious values.

Observing that celebration of Jayantis would bring peace to the mind, he called for joint celebration of such Jayantis as it would largely help in uniting the society.

Shankaracharya revived Hinduism: Palace Board Dy. Director

Mysuru, May 10 - Palace Board Deputy Director T.S. Subramanya has said that Shankaracharya was the first among the Acharya-trio who spread the Country's Sanatana culture to the entire world.

He was speaking at the Shankaracharya Jayanti celebration, organised by the Mysore Palace Board at its office here yesterday.

Pointing out that Shankaracharya rejuvenated Sanatana Hindu Dharma, which was battered by attacks from other sects, he said that Shankaracharya must be credited for uniting Hindus.

Stating that Shankaracharya toured the entire Country and succeeded in propagating Hindu culture and values, Subramanya said that Shankaracharya established Peethas in all four corners of the Country —Sringeri Sharada Peetha in the South, Jyotirmath in the North, Puri Govardhan Peetha in the East and Dwaraka Peetha in the West.

Maintaining that Shankaracharya popularised Adwaitha philosophy in the Country, he said that Shankaracharya propagated Bhagavad Gita, Upanishad and Brahmasutra. He further said that Shankaracharya's Bhaja Govindam Stotra became very popular among the people.

Selling the Past... in the Present !

I spotted him sitting on the roadside near the gate of the Catholic Centre on T.N. Narasimha Murthy Circle which is more popularly known as Millennium Circle. Yes, there are a few landmarks like that in our city which are almost unknown by their officially given names simply because people who have known them the way they have been known over the years, refuse to call them by any other name! For instance, the age-old names 'Ballal Circle' and 'Highway Circle' continue to stick to their respective spots simply because of the two hotels that once stood there.

Although our civic authorities have named them after more famous personalities, no one knows them by their new names! Ask any city bus conductor to give you a ticket to any of these two places by their official names and he or she is only likely to stare back at you with a confused look till you explain where you want to go.

Now, the man I am talking about caught my attention because he was selling miniature oil lamps, a relic from our past which perhaps no one needs these days! And, he seemed to be at a great disadvantage because he was trying to make a living exclusively out of this trade as he was not selling anything else ! That is why I decided to make a U-Turn and spend a few moments talking to him. It was only when I got out of my car and approached him that I noticed that his right arm was missing, a double and greater disadvantage indeed !

I found out that he was Mohammed Akheel from Akola in Maharashtra who was a member of an itinerant group which made those lamps out of old tin cans and sold them at places where they camped for a few days before moving on. He told me that he was actually a worker in a cotton ginning factory until he lost his arm when it got dragged into the machine he was operating. With his arm gone he could no longer work as a machine operator and had thus taken to selling lamps that were hand-made by a group of his friends. I felt happy that this man had chosen to tread the more difficult path of honest toil, sitting on the roadside in sun and rain, when many others with a fate similar to his would have chosen the easier option of begging on roadside. I asked him why he had not thought of taking on an easier and more paying job of either a watchman or a lift operator. His answer floored me. He said, "Sirjee, I simply cannot abandon my friends who stood by me and my family for many months after my accident. It is not easy for them to make a living as not many people buy oil lamps these days. Although I am one-handed I thought that an extra hand to help them sell their wares would help them a little to do better in life!"

Wizened and touched I decided to buy two pairs of his lamps. I would perhaps need them sometime to guide my own thinking and thus light my own way!

Two humble souls stand safer now !

It is a very good thing that our civic authorities have thought of shifting the statues of Bhujanga Rao Jagadale, the Policeman and Anche Basappa, the Postman that have for over 112 years adorned the entrance of our Mounted Company Headquarters away from where they stood all these years to much safer places a little away from the road.

This stretch of Lalitha Mahal Road which was once very calm and bereft of traffic has now become very busy and it is common to see lorries and private busses rushing along it recklessly at great speed. I was, therefore, always worried that one of them would one day knock down our dear Policeman or his comrade the Postman ! Thankfully, now that they have been shifted, all Mysureans can heave a sigh of relief that these two humble but iconic souls are going to be safe for all the years to come.

As a child I would never let my dad drive past these two statues without stopping our car and letting me get down to salute the Policeman and pretend to collect the letter that the Postman was holding out. And when I became a father and when my own children were very young I would always stop to let them do the same whenever we drove past that spot. My daughter Sarah would go a step further and proceed to read the letter she pretended to collect. And, thanks to her very fertile imagination, each time it would be from a different relative and each time the content would be different and more interesting thus sending us all into peals of laughter !

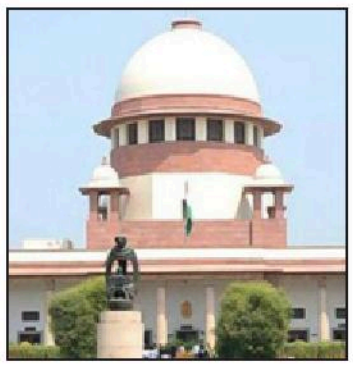
SC/ST promotion: Top Court upholds validity of Karnataka law



New Delhi, May 10 (UNI)- The Supreme Court this morning upheld the validity of a 2018 Karnataka law, granting reservation in promotion to the Scheduled Caste and Scheduled Tribe (SC/ST) employees in the State.

A Bench of Justices U.U. Lalit and D.Y. Chandrachud pointed out that the Karnataka government collected necessary data and cured the deficiencies noted in the B.K. Pavitra judgement of 2017.

"We have to come to conclusion that the challenge to the law is lacking in substance," Justice Chandrachud, who pronounced the judgement, said. The Apex Court's verdict comes as huge relief to the Karnataka government, which passed a new law on 2018 to "cure defects" in the previous legislation, cited by the Court in 2017 like no data on inadequacy of representation and its effect on overall efficiency of administration.

The Top Court said the Ratna Prabha Committee had undertaken the requisite exercise which led to the passage of 'the Karnataka Extension of Consequential Seniority to Government Servants Promoted on the Basis of Reservation (to the posts in the Civil Services of the State) Act, 2017.'

The Court stressed on the principle of inclusiveness saying it can't be completely disregarded for efficiency. "Equality is the product of inclusiveness," the Court said, adding the Constitution has to be seen as a transformative document. The Court said the new law does not amount to usurpation of power and there is no validity of a challenge to the 2018 Act.

The Top Court had on Mar. 6 wrapped up hearing the arguments by general category and reserved category of employees as well as the Karnataka government. Thousands of SC/ST employees were demoted after the Feb. 9, 2017 judgement in the B.K. Pavitra case. The 2018 law was passed to protect the affected staff.

The Court allowed the appellants to file objections in the translation of over 13,900 pages of documents that are part of the case as evidence.

The Court sent the Ayodhya dispute for mediation on Mar. 8 in a bid to heal minds and hearts. It gave the panel an initial deadline of eight weeks. The eight weeks was the time given to the Muslim parties to examine the accuracy and relevance of the Uttar Pradesh government's official translation of thousands of pages of oral depositions and exhibits in the Ayodhya title suit appeals pending since 2010 in the Court.

In fact, the Court had invoked Section 89 of the Civil Procedure Code to propose mediation as an "effective utilisation of time" during the interregnum. "The report says the mediation process is on... We are inclined to grant them time," Chief Justice Gogoi remarked.

The Committee has held several rounds of mediation with the stakeholders in Faizabad district of Uttar Pradesh and the mediation proceedings were held in camera. The Court had stressed need for "utmost confidentiality" in the conduct of the mediation to ensure its success.

Chief Justice Gogoi

It had gone to the extent of opining that the media should refrain from reporting the mediation proceedings. "We are of the further opinion that while the mediation proceedings are being carried out, there ought not to be any reporting of the said proceedings either in the print or in the electronic media," it said.

The CJI had expressed the hope that mediation may spell a peaceful end to the volatile dispute between the members of the two religious faiths. The Court took the mediation step despite objections raised by some Hindu parties that their faith in Lord Ram's birthplace is "non-negotiable."

The Bench had explained that the Ramjanmabhoomi-Babri Masjid case "is not about the 1500 sq.ft. of disputed land, but about religious sentiments. We know its impact on public sentiment, on body politic. We are looking at minds, hearts and healing if possible."

Leopard enters house, trapped after four-hour operation

Feline bites villager, injures another at Kyathanahalli in H.D. Kote Taluk

Forest Department sharp shooter Akram and Veterinarian Dr. D.N. Nagaraj get down from the roof of the house from where Akram fired the tranquilliser shot to capture the leopard. Picture right shows the trapped feline inside the cage.

Mysuru, May 10 (MTY&BCT)- Kyathanahalli village near Gaddige in H.D. Kote Taluk woke up to leopard attacks this morning where two villagers were attacked by the feline. While one villager was bit on his arm, the other villager sustained scratch marks on his right thigh.

The village is located near Hampapura Hobli and the leopard was spotted at around 7.30 am by villagers. Panicking, some of the villagers ran helter-skelter and some even attempted to chase the animal. In the process, the leopard pounced on 60-year-old Dasa Shetty and bit his left arm.

The feline next leaped on Ananda Murthy and its front paw hit his right thigh and the animal backed off hearing the screams of the villagers. Ananda Murthy sustained scratch marks. Seeing a group of villagers coming towards it, the feline entered the backyard of the house owned by Ninganna Swamy and took shelter inside a room where coconut frond, branches and firewood were stored.

Villagers Girish and Mahadev, who saw the dotted carnivore entering the room, alerted Ninganna Swamy's family and they rushed out of the house that was built with mud and Mangaluru tiles. The room was locked preventing the animal from venturing out. The age of the leopard is estimated to be three to three and a half years.

The Forest Department was alerted and a team of officers including Range Forest Officer Madhu, Veterinarian Dr. D.N. Nagaraj arrived at the spot with a cage to trap the leopard. First, the house premises were covered with nets so that the feline cannot escape and later, Department sharp shooter Akram and Dr. Nagaraj climbed atop the house to tranquillise the leopard.

Villagers are seen around the house where the leopard was spotted.

Hunting for the feline, officials realised that it had entered the bathroom of the house. Crackers were burst forcing the leopard to enter the hall of the house and come outside. This plan worked and Akram fired a tranquilliser shot and the feline was captured.

Department staff said that the animal had marks around its neck suspecting that it might have been caught in a snare that is used to trap wild boars. It also had wound marks all over its body. Examining the leopard, Department staff said that the snare marks on the skin were deep and it had reached infection stage. The survival of the leopard is critical and it needs urgent medical intervention, said officers.

The feline was weak and was unable to hunt and had ventured into the village to hunt for easy prey, officers added. Villagers told Star of Mysore that it was the second incident of a leopard entering the village in search of food. They said two years back a leopard had fallen into a well in the village and it was rescued and released into the forests.

Kyathanahalli is located on the fringes of Nagarahole National Park and Bandipur Tiger Reserve and the village is prone to wild animal attacks, said villagers who demanded swift action from the Forest Department.

Demand for combo ticket at Mysuru Zoo goes up

Mysuru, May 10 (MTY&NNN)- Demand for combo ticket to view Mysuru Zoo and Karnaji Lake is increasing day by day. Nearly 35 tourists are making use of this offer to walk through the Connecting Path to enter Karnaji Lake.

Even though Karanji Lake is in the jurisdiction of the Zoo, still people had to buy two separate tickets. In the light of this during last Dasara, a combo offer was made to view both the places. Besides, Rs.10 discount was also offered. The entry ticket for the Zoo was fixed at Rs.80 and for Karanji Lake Rs.30. However, in the combo ticket the visitors have to pay Rs.100 thus saving Rs.10.

After purchasing the combo ticket the visitors after viewing the Zoo could go to Karanji Lake using the connecting path that begins near the Aquarium. The visitors going to Karanji Lake from the Zoo would return to the Zoo and exit from the main entrance or would leave from the Karanji Lake entrance.

Nearly 30 to 40 visitors are making use of the combo facility now to see both the Zoo and Karanji Lake. However, due to paucity of time lot of visitors skip Karanji Lake and move to different places. But the authorities are confident that more and more visitors in the future would make use of the combo offer.

During last Dasara for the benefit of the tourists the combo offer was introduced by reducing Rs.10. This resulted in the selling of more combo tickets. We are confident that in the coming days more and more visitors will buy combo tickets and view both the Zoo and Karanji Lake, says Ajit M. Kulkarni, Zoo Executive Director.

129th Ramotsava by Ramabhyudaya Sabha - 8

A measured and satisfying presentation

Ashwath Narayan presenting a concert on the 8th day of Ramotsava at Alamma's choultry.

By Dr. Padmavathi Narasimhan

On the 8th day of Ramabhyudaya Sabha's Ramotsava, Karnatak vocalist Ashwath Narayan gave a vocal recital with Mattur Srinidhi on violin, K.V. Prasad on mridanga, Sukanya Ramgopal on ghata and Purushotham on khanjira. Ashwath Narayan has been fortunate to learn music from one of the greatest maestros of all times, Sangeeta Kalanidhi Palghat K.V. Narayanswamy, who saw the raw talent in him and polished it to bring out the true colours in him. Today Ashwath Narayan is already one of the most wanted voices, who is in demand from every organiser.

Ashwath Narayan sang with maturity. The opening piece 'Jaya Jaya Jaya Janakikaanta' by Purandara Dasa was lively and energetic. Ramapriya, the sub-main item of the evening, an unusual choice, kept its unique structure beautifully intact. Tyagaraja's 'Sandehamu Deepavayya Saketanilaya Ramayya' was excellently rendered with a detailed neraval at the last part of the charana 'Bharatachala Che Padukanu.' While Deekshitar's 'Mamava Pattabhirama' in Manirang was blissfully presented, Mysuru Vasudevacharya's very popular 'Brochevarevarura' in Kamas was unhurried and pleasing with a neraval at 'Aturamuga Karirajuni Brochina', bringing out every nuance and carefully giving it the presentation it deserves as the central focus of the presentation. The taniyavartanam was grand with three percussion instruments — mridanga (K.V. Prasad), ghata (Sukanya Ramgopal) and khanjira (Purushotham).

The post-tani part was also impressive with Kanakadasa's 'Baro Krishnayya' (Ragamalika), Tyagaraja's 'Pavanaja stutipatra (on request) in kuranji, Tulasidas bhajan 'Shri Ramachandra krupalu bhajamana' and a Lalgudi tillana in Behag.

A unique blend of Karnatak Music and Rabindra Sangeet

An unusual programme of Rabindra Sangeet based on Karnatak music compositions has been organised on Sunday (May 12) at Kalpa Kshetra Auditorium, 581/1, Vijayanagar 4th Stage, 1st Phase, Mysruu at 6.30 pm [Mob: 9449819536].

Noble Laureate Rabindranath Tagore visited Mysore in 1922 as a special guest at the Dasara festival during the reign of Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar. Dewan Mirza Ismail took special interest to welcome and receive him. As a music composer of extraordinary abilities with an open mind to listen to and absorb all varieties of music, he was curious about Karnatak music. His niece Sarala Devi, who had spent quite a bit of her time in Mysore introduced him to Karnatak music and its numerous composers and compositions. Karnatak musician Savitri Govindakrishnan, who was a student at Shanthiniketan, familiarised Tagore with many of the well-known Kritis of South Indian Classical music. Tagore composed many Rabindra Sangeet Compositions based on Karnatak music pieces. For example, the anthem of the Mysore Royal Kingdom, Kayo Shri Gowri was the basis of the well-known Ananda Loke Mangala Loke in Bengali.

Ganga-Cauvery Sangam will present Karnatak versions and Rabindra Sangeet based on them. Close shave for couple in tusker attack

Madikeri, May 10 (PS&BCT)- A couple saved life from an angry elephant when the wild tusker attacked a car and tried to crush it on the fringes of Nagarahole National Park.

This spine-chilling incident happened at Kutta in South Kodagu when a wild elephant suddenly came out from a coffee estate and charged at the car and tried to smash the vehicle. The terrified couple, Konganda Devaiah and wife Veena, was inside the car when the elephant attacked them.

Elephant attacks have become common in South Kodagu and only last week one coffee planter was trampled to death by a tusker. However, Devaiah and Veena were lucky to escape from the jaws of death.

On Wednesday at around 6.30 am, Devaiah and Veena left their home at Nanachi Begur in their Maruti 800 car. Their house comes on the fringes of Nagarahole National Park. As they moved around 500 metres on the main road, Devaiah spotted a tusker that was standing by the side of a coffee estate.

"I stopped the car assuming that the tusker might attack us. I reversed the car and went up to a distance of 10 feet and the tusker ran towards us. We were inside the car as we feared that getting out of the car will give an opportunity for the tusker to attack us. Trumpeting, the tusker gored the bonnet of the car and made a hole on it and it vigorously shook its head," Devaiah explained.

"Not stopping at this, the elephant shook the car a couple of times with its tusks and trunk. We had lost all hopes of survival and were resigned to our fate. The enraged pachyderm then came near the driver's seat and gored the door and at the same time hit the door violently with its trunk," Devaiah narrated.

"We thought that the tusker would overturn the car and trample us. We decided to open the car doors and run for our lives. There was a danger here too as the elephant could chase us and we could become easy targets. Fortunately, the elephant suddenly stopped its attack and ran back into the woods," he said.

Taking some time to recover from the harrowing experience, Devaiah drove the damaged car back to his house. "It is due to sheer luck that we escaped death. We will have to think twice before venturing out of our houses now. The situation would have been worse if we were walking on the same stretch at that time," Devaiah said.

As Kutta and surrounding areas that is surrounded by coffee estates, it is easy for the elephants from Nagarahole National Park to enter the human habitation. "Elephant menace is rampant here and herds of pachyderms raid coffee estates and paddy fields in the night and they return to the forests in the morning. I have seen elephants crossing the estates a couple of times. Elephants enter the plantations in search of food and water mostly during summer as the waterholes inside the forest would have dried up," he added.

Devaiah recalled last week's incident where coffee planter Chokira Sudha Kuttappa was trampled to death on the Srimangala-Kutta main road. "Fortunately, we escaped and only our car has been damaged. The Forest Department has failed us as so far they have not taken any concrete measures to prevent the elephants from entering into human habitat," he added.

Elephant charges at car in Bandipur

Gundlupet, May 10 (Somg& BCT)- While a wild tusker entered human habitation and attacked a car at Kutta, in Bandipur, another tusker attacked a car inside the forest area. Here too, the occupants of the car had a providential escape.

This incident occurred last evening when Vinod, a resident of Bengaluru was proceeding towards Ooty along with two of his friends. The car was moving along the Mudumalai Road. A herd of elephants was by the side of the road that cuts through Bandipur Tiger Reserve. Seeing some vehicles moving on the road, one of the tuskers suddenly entered the road and charged at the car. Seeing the approaching elephant, Vinod reversed his car and escaped. The elephant too returned to forest.

Woman's death in Temple area

No rituals at Srikanteshwara Temple in Nanjangud for two days

Nanjangud, May 10 (RS& BCT)- Hundreds of devotees have been put to a lot of inconvenience at the historical Srikanteshwara Swamy Temple at Nanjangud as the Temple has been closed for all kinds of sevas and rituals owing to the death of a woman in the Temple premises. Devotees can only have darshan and they cannot perform any kind of puja to the deity.

The Temple will be closed for the next two days. As per tradition, if any death occurs near the Temple premises or on the road that leads to the Temple, no ritual will be held at the Temple till the body is cremated. Once the cremation is over, the Temple is purified with Shuddhikarana rituals and only then the pujas will be held. This is the reason why the cremation is performed early in every case.

Yesterday, Padmavathamma (90), wife of late K. Shrikantaiah, a former employee of Srikanteshwara Temple died. The family members are expecting her son Shankar who is settled abroad to come to Nanjangud to perform the last rites. He is scheduled to come only on Saturday (May 11) and till then, no rituals will be performed at the Temple.

This has put the devotees into a lot of inconvenience and people who have booked sevas in advance or through online system are returning empty handed. Otherwise too, hundreds of devotees who came today for sevas have returned after having darshan.

Realising the inconvenience to the devotees, Temple Executive Officer Kumaraswamy yesterday met the family members urging them to cremate the body but they refused and said that they will have to wait for the deceased's son to arrive. "As per tradition, sevas and rituals have been stopped but devotees can have the darshan of the Lord," Kumaraswamy told Star of Mysore this morning.

Burglary at city doctor's house: Case handed over to CCB

Mysuru, May 10 (RK&DM)- The investigation into the burglary of the house of a city doctor's house in Vijayanagar 4th Stage which took place last month, in which 5 kg of gold jewellery, over Rs. 11 lakh cash and other expensive valuables, totally worth nearly Rs. 2 crore, was stolen, has been handed over to the CCB.

The theft, which took place when Dr. Rajiv and his family were away, was reported on Apr. 11, following which the jurisdictional Vijayanagar Police conducted mahazar and registered a case.

Vijayanagar Police, who began investigation were unsuccessful in finding clues despite hectic efforts as the doctor had reportedly switched off the CCTV cameras installed in the house while leaving the city. As the Vijayanagar Police were busy in bandobust duty for Lok Sabha polls and as there was a long list of pending cases, City Police Commissioner K.T. PGTI Tata Steel Golf Tourney

City's Yashas storms into lead

Panchkula, May 10- Mysuru's Yashas Chandra (JWGC) hogged the limelight in round three of the TATA Steel PGTI Players Championship presented by Panchkula Golf Club as he stormed into the lead with the day's best score of seven-under-65. The 24-year-old Yashas Chandra, playing only his second season as a professional, jumped 11 positions from his overnight tied 12th to go one clear of the field at 10-under-206.

Twenty-two-year-old rookie Yuvraj Singh Sandhu (71) of Chandigarh hung on to his overnight second place to be hot on the leader's heels at nine-under-207.

Interestingly, there is the prospect of witnessing a new champion on the TATA Steel PGTI on Friday, as both Yashas and Yuvraj are yet to win their maiden title.

Panchkula's Angad Cheema, the halfway leader, shot a 75 on Thursday that saw him slip to tied fifth. He now lies three off the pace.

Yashas Chandra (67-74-65), currently placed eighth on the PGTI Order of Merit, had made a brilliant start to the week with a 67 that was punctuated with a record three eagles. However, Yashas dropped off the radar with an ordinary second round of 74 that placed him seven shots behind the lead. But he was back in the mix once again on day three following a 65 that featured as many as nine birdies and a double-bogey.

Yashas Chandra in action

Yashas' birdies on the first two holes were negated by his double-bogey on the fourth where he found the bushes with his tee shot. Thereafter, it was one-way traffic for Karnataka golfer as his precise hitting and consistent putting earned him seven more birdies. Notable among Yashas' birdies was one on par-4 11th where he drove the green.

Yashas, who has a runner-up finish, one other top-10 and three more top-20s to his credit this season, said, "My ball-striking, bunker shots and putting were spot-on today. I had 15 greens in regulation and made 27 putts. The momentum has been building up well for me this year. I'm growing in confidence with each passing event. I've so far not been able to put four good rounds together. I've shot at least one poor round in all recent events. I want to improve that aspect of my game."

"It's a tight leaderboard so the final round will be all about staying patient. There are quite a few players in the leading pack who are capable of shooting a low number on the final day. The key for me would be to keep the errors out and try to shoot a score of about four to five-under," he added.

Yuvraj Singh Sandhu (71-65-71), who had produced the second day's best round, continued to be in the hunt on the third day as a result of his 71 that featured four birdies, a bogey and a double-bogey. Sandhu was in a spot of bother when he made the turn at two-over. However, he pulled it back with three birdies on the back-nine. Noida's Gaurav Pratap Singh made waves on day three as he climbed from tied 12th to tied third thanks to his error-free 67. His tournament tally stood at eight-under-208. Mukesh Kumar (71) of Mhow continued to be in tied third for the second consecutive day.
